Creative solution to a challenging situation

There was a difficult situation in 2020. In this year a virus named COVID-19 came to the world. Then, all the things like-school, college, office, shops etc was closed. Children's education was also closed. Then, government conducted the online classes but it was not completely successful because of every child's bad economical conditions. One day I saw news with my father that poor people have no mobiles so, how they can do the online classes. After that I decided to help them. Then, I collected some phones and go to slum areas and gave them some mobiles and explained them how to use it. Then, I came home I was very happy to help them and I was thinking that in this tuff situation many people are in home and doing work-from-home and many people are not today in the world.

There are many good and bad things about this pandemic. Some good things are- cars, trucks etc stop working and there was less pollution which is good for environment and many more things.

Some bad things are- Education, Jobs, Shops etc are stopped.

World's economical conditions is very poor. India's economy rate is in lowest position of economic history.
